Cultivation and agronomic skills

Dureza is rustic, vigorous, productive and has a semi-erect bearing. This variety must be pruned short and can sometimes be sensitive to millerandage.

Susceptibility to Diseases and Pests

Dureza is not very sensitive to cryptogamic diseases nor to grey rot.

Clonal selection in France

The only certified Dureza clone carries the number 1211.

Phenology

Bud burst: 11 day after Chasselas.

Grape maturity: mid-season, 3 weeks to 3 weeks and a half after Chasselas.

Technological potential

Dureza's bunches are medium in size and compact. The berries are also medium, simple-flavored, with a moderately thick to thin skin and a not very juicy pulp. This variety produces rather colored, quite acidic wines with spicy aromas.
