Cultivation and agronomic skills

Cualtacciu is productive, vigorous and has a semi-erect or horizontal bearing.

Clonal selection in France

The only certified Cualtacciu clone carries the number 1314.

A conservatory of 5 clones was planted in Corsica by the CRVI in 2006.

Phenology

Bud burst: 7 days after Chasselas.

Grape maturity: early-season, 1 week and a half to 2 weeks after Chasselas.

Technological potential

Cualtacciu's bunches are medium in size and compact. The berries are small to medium, simple-flavored, with a moderately thick skin and a moderately juicy pulp. This variety produces light-bodied wines with a pronounced, intense acidity, that are expressive on the nose, with citrus fruits and exotiques fruits notes. Cualtacciu is interesting to improve the liveliness in blends.
